Cipa Brott arrived in Australia from Poland in 1926. She was educated at the Lee Street State School, Carlton, and the University High School and, from 1941 until 1946, at the University of Melbourne where she graduated in Arts in March 1945 and in Law in April 1947. She was called to the Bar in April 1948. While practising as a lawyer, she also took an active part in the Laboratory - Furniture business established in August 1946 by Peter F. Danby, whom she married in December of that year. The firm (which is still in existence) was not only to fit out laboratories of University buildings in Victoria, New South Wales and the A.C.T., but expanded to make and instal general furnishings in the Hilton and Regent Hotels and other buildings. Mrs. Brott Danby has two children and four grandchildren.
