CHAIRMAN'S PAPERS, AUSTRALIAN HERITAGE COMMISSION

REFERENCE NO. 1991.0070

DATE RANGE 1967-1982

The Australian Heritage Commission Act 1975 was assented to on 19 June 1975 as a statutory authority, responsible to the Commonwealth Minister for the Environment, Sport and Territories of the Whitlam Labour government. The AHC had wide scope, covering natural, indigenous and historical heritage. Commissioners meet four to six times a year, and with the part-time Chairman and six part-time Commissioners being chosen for their skills and interest in the natural and cultural environment. The AHC was chaired from 1975-1981 by Professor David Yencken who had been instrumental in its establishment. The Australian Heritage Commission was abolished under the Howard Liberal-National coalition government and the Australian Heritage Council formed in its place on 19 February 2004.

This material was transferred to Archives by David Yencken in 1991 and reflects his work as Chairman. The records comprise meeting papers, correspondence and research materials about heritage matters in various settings and jurisdictions.

NOTE ON LISTING

A draft file list was compiled by Libby Robin during her research with David Yencken on 'Australia's National Estate: Changing Attitudes and Values'. The material was listed in the order in which it was housed for transfer to Archives. Therefore, some related materials may be scattered across the boxes. The draft list has been reproduced here, with minor changes to reflect the way the material is housed.

During rehousing in 2015, it was determined that the material formerly known as David Yencken should properly be called CHAIRMAN'S PAPERS AUSTRALIAN HERITAGE COMMISSION. This change has been applied to materials identified by reference numbers 1991.0070; 1993.0092 and 1993.0095.
