HISTORICAL NOTE	The ANF Victorian Branch was formed between 1970 and 1972 with the amalgamation of the Royal Victorian College of Nursing and the Royal Victorian College of Nursing Employees Section. This ended the split in nursing organisations between those with an educational function and those with an industrial relations function which had obtained throughout most of the century. The forerunners of the ANF in Victoria were: the Victorian Trained Nurses' Association, formed 1901 to educate and register nurses; it became the Royal VTNA in 1904; The Trained Nurses' Guild was formed in 1921 to look after wages and conditions but soon ceased; RVTNA joined other states to form the ANF in 1923.

NOTE ON LISTING	This material has been listed by the Information Manager of the ANF Victorian Branch, after a sentencing project undertaken on the total records in 2005. The list is retained as presented by the ANF and no further arrangement and description have been undertaken.
