		NOTE ON LISTING	Most material is in good condition, some letters, including those from the 1880s, are written on fine tissue paper and are fragile. Speeches were removed from the original notebook binders to prevent rusting and deterioration and placed in clear plastic sleeves. Leather notebooks with metal springs have been retained with the material, and the springs removed. Metal clips and staples have been removed. The photographs have been wrapped in acid-free paper and the albums have a leaf of acid-free paper covering each page. Artificial series have been created to prevent recurring files of similar material. The original order of the papers had been disturbed by resorting of the original papers, i.e. the separation of the 1880's correspondence into two groups for the book Growing Together. Sister Desda Brown has also annotated some of the papers.
