DATE RANGE		1902-1954
SIZE OF COLLECTION		21 boxes (Type 1)
HISTORICAL NOTE		Born in 1867 in London, Harrison Moore spent some time in journalism before proceeding to study law at the Middle Temple, London, and at Cambridge. In 1893 he succeeded Edward Jenks as Professor of Law at the University of Melbourne, and became the third Dean of the Faculty. His interests included the Australian Constitution and the Imperial Federation League, the Round Table and the League of Nations, being prominent in organizing the Victorian branch of the last-mentioned and attending the Conference in Rome in October 1927. He was also a member of the delegation in 1929 and 1930 and was chosen as Australia's representative at the Imperial Conference. He was President of the Victorian branch of the League of Nations Union, Chairman of the Victorian division of the Royal Institute of International Affairs and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Institute of Pacific Relations led an Australian contingent to the Institute's Conference in Shanghai in November 1931. He was a director of Robertson &amp; Mullens in the 1920's and 1930's. He married Edith a'Beckett in 1898. He died at Toorak on 1 July 1935.
NOTE ON COLLECTION		Due to its high use, the entire collection was transferred into acid-free folders and re-boxed into Type 1 archive boxes. Items in each group were checked and re-ordered to match the lists. Some of the more fragile items were placed in Mylar or other inert plastic sleeves. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Item 5/2/7: Covers had fused with loose items, so the notebooks were separated and placed in a plastic sleeve. Documents had to be cut away (with no loss of text).</li> <li>• Item 6/5/5, listed as „Constitutional Changes during the Peace Conference’, is actually a reprint from The Times entitled „The Dominions and Foreign Policy’, Feb 1925.</li> <li>• Listed items 1/2/42, 6/5/4 and 10/2/24 appear to be missing.</li> </ul>

NOTE ON LISTING	The original list for the collection is extremely detailed, although no box numbers were added. A hard copy of the original can be accessed in the reading room. This current list was written by Ella Holcombe in 2010 to provide a summary of the series, and to match the descriptions with the box numbers that were created in 2009. The listing for Group 1 Correspondence Items 1/1/17 – 1/1/61 was changed (from 1/1/2 – 1/1/20/6) to match the numbering on the documents.

1	1	CORRESPONDENCE
1	1/1	Business Correspondence.
1	1/2	Correspondence informing Moore that he is to be appointed as a Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of St Michael and St George, and congratulating him on receiving the honour.
1	1/3	Letters and telegrams congratulating Moore on being appointed Knight Commander of the Civil Division of the Order of the British Empire. [In both 1/2 and 1/3, letters of congratulation are simply listed by name of sender, with address.]
1	1/4	General Correspondence. [This consists mainly of letters from government departments and various organisations for the study of international affairs with which Moore was concerned.]
1	2	DIARIES AND ADDRESS BOOKS [This group consists of two diaries and an address book. The diary numbered 2/1/2 contains information on international organizations such as the League of Nations, conferences at Geneva, etc.]
1	3	LEGAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL OPINIONS [Consists mainly of legal opinions on various acts, but also of opinions on constitutional matters – probably given when he was Constitutional Advisor to the Victorian Government.] {See also Group 7, The Australian Commonwealth Constitution}
2-10	4	UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE [Papers relating to the work of Sir William Harrison Moore at the University of Melbourne.]
2	4/1	Trinity College and Janet Clarke Hall. [Minutes of meeting of committees and boards associated with the colleges; material relating to the incorporation of the college, etc.]
2-10	4/2	Lecture Notes. [Most of these notes are written on small-sized note-paper by Harrison Moore. Most related to Constitutional Law, and to what today at the University of Melbourne is called International Law. Unfortunately the notes were already mixed up when found, so that it was impossible to number each set separately. The best that could be done was to gather all the notes on each topic together.] {For clear typed notes on International Relations see 4/2/36}
