Creator	Jaggs, Donella
Creator's Activity/Occupation	Social workers
Creator's Historical Note Donella Jaggs spent all of her professional life in the field of social welfare. Starting as a social worker in Britain, she was recruited to the Social Welfare Department in Victoria in the 1960s and worked in various positions rising through the bureaucracy. She was the Administration and Policy Officer supporting the Norgard Inquiry (1975-1976) and later was a lecturer in the welfare field at RMIT.
Creator	Social Policy Archive
Creator's Activity/Occupation	Research organisations
Creator's Historical Note Driven by Dr David Maunders, a Social Policy Archive at RMIT University to support research was first suggested to the Salvation Army in 1989. A letter from Dr Maunders in 1993 states that he raised the issue of records transfers from the Salvation Army in 1989 but the Archive was founded in 1992 and only in 1993 had the archivist and space to begin acquisitions. Transfers into the Archive seem to have occurred between 1993-1997 with much of it coming from lecturers at RMIT and their social welfare sector connections. Dr Maunders was an associate professor in Youth Studies at RMIT and by 2010 was retired. The Social Policy Archive was primarily a research collection focussing on the broad area of social policy, youth and child care services based at Bundoora RMIT (formerly Phillip Institute of Technology).

Scope and Content of Collection/Series

This collection primarily comprises photographs published by the British and Victorian Governments of social welfare activities and institutions, for example, visits by social workers to orphanages and foster homes, and photographs of the Winlaton Youth Training Centre in suburban Melbourne, (Nunawading). The photographs were collected by Ms Donella Jaggs, who had an active policy career in both jurisdictions and later lectured at RMIT. Also included are three publications reflecting the moral flavour of much of social work in the 20th Century.

System of Arrangement

There is no order apparent in the photographs. The series was transferred from the RMIT Social Policy Archive where it had been transferred in the 1990s as part of a collection strategy to capture the records of community sector organisations operating in the welfare sector. Within the SPA, these records were identified as series 87-89 and were combined into a single series during processing at the UMA. It was the practice of the SPA to item number material in order of its receipt irrespective of the series it was later allocated; these item numbers and generally their order have been retained. The 'Title' recorded for each item/ file is the original title that was written on the outside of the envelope housing the photographs. It is unclear if this was written by the Welfare Department or Donnell Jaggs herself.

All Victorian photographs in this collection have been digitised, however due to copyright restrictions these have not been published online. Descriptions of these photographs can be viewed on the UMA Digitised Items catalogue (via <https://archives.unimelb.edu.au/>) by searching on the reference number 2013.0135 or a word search such a name of a home. The titles of the photographs are those that are written on the verso of the photograph, or where no title was present a title has been imposed by the archivist listing the collection. Only nine photographs have names of children recorded with the photograph, these are items: 2013.0135.00023, 2013.0135.00043, 2013.0135.00044, 2013.0135.00045, 2013.0135.00046, 2013.0135.00047, 2013.0135.00048, 2013.0135.00049 and 2013.0135.00055. Names have not been published to protect people's privacy. Please contact archives@archives.unimelb.edu.au regarding access to names.

NB. British photographs have not been digitised or described.
