Creator's Historical Note
Tilman Ruff is an infectious diseases and public health physician. He is Associate Professor in the Nossal Institute for Global Health, University of Melbourne. Dr. Ruff contributed to the development of travel medicine; worked on hepatitis B control, immunisation and maternal and child health in Indonesia and Pacific island countries; and documented the link between nuclear testing and outbreaks of ciguatera fish poisoning in the Pacific. He is Australian Red Cross international medical advisor and member of the WHO Western Pacific Expert Resource Panel on Hepatitis B Control through Immunization. In 2012, he was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia for service to the promotion of peace as an advocate for the abolition of nuclear weapons, and to public health through the promotion of immunisation programs in the South-East Asia Pacific region. Dr. Ruff has been a Co-President of IPPNW since 2012. He has been active in the Medical Association for Prevention of War (Australia) since 1982 and a past national President; and was the South-east Asia Pacific vice-president of IPPNW from 1989-93 and 2010-12. He was founding chair of the governing bodies of the International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear Weapons (ICAN) in Australia and internationally, and is a representative of IPPNW on the ICAN International Steering Group. Source: http://www.ippnw.org/board.html

Scope and Content of Collection/Series

PROGRAM RECORDS

These records arise from Associate Professor Tilman Ruff's work as a physician and program leader on immunisation and maternal and child health projects in the Pacific region, in particular in relation to hepatitis B control.

The first part of the series (items 00001 to 00091) includes reference material (reports, journal articles, conference proceedings) relating to Australian and international research into hepatitis B and other vaccine preventable illness, in particular the delivery and evaluation of immunisation programs.

The second part (items 00092 to 00193) relates to Ruff's work as technical advisor and/or program leader on successive hepatitis B immunisation programs in Pacific island countries between 1995 and 2011. These programs included: Control of Hepatitis B Infection in Pacific Island Countries Project (UNICEF, AusAID and NZ Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, 1995-2000); Strengthening the Expanded Programme on Immunization (EPI) in Pacific Island Countries (UNICEF, World Health Organisation and AusAID, 2001-2005); and the Pacific Immunisation Program Strengthening (PIPS) (World Health Organisation 2005-2011).

The third part of the series (items 00194-00208) includes further records from the above programs and also Ruff's later consultancy work for the World Health Organisation Western Pacific Region on the effective delivery of a birth dose of the hepatitis B vaccine.

The creator's arrangement of files has been maintained and original file/document titles have generally been retained (including alternative spellings of immunisation/immunization and program/programme), with abbreviations and acronyms expanded.
