Archives Digitised Collections

Creator(s)
Greer, Germaine (1939-)

Title

Date
1968-1970

Description
item: 2014.0039.0166

Terms and Conditions
Copyright owned by University of Melbourne. For information about ordering a copy of this image contact the University of Melbourne Archives: archives@archives.unimelb.edu.au

Preferred Citation
University of Melbourne Archives, Greer, Germaine (1939-), 2014.0039.0166 acquired through occupational pursuits enabled him to do so. I understand stimulation to be attractive, and with the addition of ornament to the repertoire, the charms, woman has assumed an almost aggressive attitude towards courtship... (German: zu beherrschen)

...and he is considered... The condition of limited stimulation in which woman finds herself as a result of the control by many wealthy men, of the substantial interests of society, and even of her own personality, leads woman to devote herself to display as an end in itself, regardless of its effect on men.

238 Because their problem is not to accommodate to the fixed moral precepts and restraints, but to adjust themselves to the personality of men, it is not surprising that they should assume Protean shapes.

239 Woman is a distinguishing element in business and in school, to a degree not usually appreciated... Human nature was made for action, and perhaps the most distressing and disconcerting situation which confronts it is to be played on by stimulations without the ability to function. The mere superinducing of pain, as in the extreme case of solitary confinement, is sufficient to produce insanity; and the emotion of dread, or passive fear, is said to be the most painful of emotions, because there is no possibility of relief by action. Modern woman is in a similar state of constraint, and unrest which produces organic ravages for which no luxury can compensate.

243 irregularity, pettiness, ill-health and humorlessness

263 PRIMITIVE MAN NOT FREE (n.d. John Lubbock)

SEQU Estration of women in primitive tribes

Custom lies upon them with a weight heavy as lead and deep almost as life.

The period of child-bearing is not only not uncommon through life, but is not severe from the standpoint of time. 