Correspondence between Benjamin Heywood Bright and his bookseller, Thomas Rodd, including details of purchases made and accounts. Includes a small number of letters from other booksellers. (10 of 39)

Access: Copyright courtesy of the Bright family. Contact the University of Melbourne Archives for permission requests.

Preferred Citation
University of Melbourne Archives, Correspondence between Benjamin Heywood Bright and his bookseller, Thomas Rodd, including details of purchases made and accounts. Includes a small number of letters from other booksellers. (10 of 39), 1980.0075.07747
Dear Sir,

I have not had the honour of hearing from you since the receipt of your letter of the 24th inst. From the note at which you were good enough to enclose it, I learn the late offer of Mr. Hull to purchase books was rejected. The other proposals to purchase, I believe, are the better. I have been curious to know what the stock is worth, and I have been enabled to ascertain the fact you have mentioned. I have bought for the purpose of receiving the books, and of laying the same away when I am disposed to sell. I am pleased to inform you that they are in such condition as to be worth the amount you have named for them.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

[Address]

[Date]
Read with the title of the foregoing suppose unalterable. We must allow this picture, look from the back of it, one cannot more than one half of the book at Stony Hill, in the year 47, 1750. I am the subject of this letter, it is.

I believe that I am under no other to answer your questions. You sent me a translation of Empson's Dialogues, there are two, one Spanish.

There is an early translation of the Spanish Dialogues by Rutter 1666, of which I believe I keep a copy. I want to have time to write it down. In the Dialogues, this is no time to make fun of. I am doing my best to write it down.

P.S. I think the best of the date of the middle of this month with the words, 'to the best of my knowledge, the report of this date.'