Dear Sir,

Not knowing that you have already received a catalogue of the second part of Mr. Chalmers' sale, I have sent one by Post.

I did nothing for you at Nott's sale. There was only one edition of Lewis' Wright; it was purchased by [illegible] from the Duke of Norfolk. [illegible] was purchased for a gentleman who had given an unlimited order to try it at any price.

Instantly was carried off.
by Mr. John Scott on one large sheet had been written by a brother of Oxford.

There were three MSS.
One was left sealed up by S. W., to be delivered to the owner, not known. The second was carried off by Misses; the third I purchased from Chalmers. Sale containing some curious articles should you have their address I shall be happy to execute them on the usual terms.

Do you know Sibley? School
