HISTORICAL NOTE	Raynes Waite Stanley Dickson was educated at Melbourne and Cambridge, and admitted to the Victorian Bar in 1894. He was a member of the firm Raynes Dickson, Kiddle &amp; Briggs and attorney to the Howey Estate (see UMA collection 1978.0100). RWS Dickson and JW Howey had met while fishing in the UK, establishing a deep friendship between their families. Stanley Dickson's son, Raynes Waite Adrian Dickson, educated at Melbourne Grammar and University of Melbourne (Trinity College), entered the firm in 1933. He took on the responsibility of the Howey Estate and saw it through to its winding-up by the successor firm of Raynes Dickson &amp; Co. He was a director of insurance and brewing companies and had investments in theatre and mining companies. Interested in both cars and aeroplanes, Raynes Dickson gained his pilot's licence in 1929 and subsequently served in the RAAF in WWII. A number of other family members are glimpsed in these records, including William Kennedy Laurie Dickson who worked with Thomas Edison in his film lab in the USA.
