

THE UNIVERSITY OF

MELBOURNE

Archives Digitised Collections

Creator(s)

Title

Anglo-American relations, Britain, the Dominions and the League of Nations

Date

Undated

Description

Sub-item: 1963.0001.00022

Terms and Conditions

Preferred Citation

University of Melbourne Archives, Moore, Sir William Harrison collection, Anglo-American relations, Britain, the Dominions and the League of Nations, 1963.0001.00022

Canada -

10/3/4

her relation to League in view of U. S. may be considered in relation also to Pan American Union. She has not become a member, but she was officially is prevented by (a) her having diplomatic replies at Washington & then during under provision of qualification for membership of Governing Body (b) new provision of Constitution whereby the states must reply at W. can appoint special representatives.

U. S. understood to consider her eligible as 'an American State' in view of her acceptance as member of the L. of N.
Debate in Canadian Senate.

May 1 March 1927 - Times March 14.

October 1927 p. 881.

JB/alt

Canada H. of R.

1920 - in Can. Parl. Ames, Financial Director & Secretary, appt. Canada to share in construction internationalism.

Emphasize importance of preliminary discussions of
Int. Representatives

Canada: First Tuesday 2 Feb P.C.

(a) Law students

(b) Article X

(c) Division of Planning.

Canada

1921-1922 - Influence of their Ukrainian population impelled Canada to move for recognition by League of Nations of independence of Western Galicia

Can. Ann. Rev. 1922 p. 61. See Pol. Rep. 9d. 15
pp. 224, 305.

Sanctions & military undertakings:

relation of Treaties providing for such to League.

Canada Feb 1927

demanding to ~~general~~ ^{formal} declining to associate herself with the proposed Anglo-Egyptian Treaty, Govt says if minor raised of assumption of Canada of military obligations in Europe & near East, as w. to membership of Canadian Govt. recommends entering into military alliance with Egypt, prejudicial to relations between Canada & other parts of Brit. Empire as well as to interests of Canada herself.

Canada as a member of the C. of N. & of the Brit. Council will be prepared if occasion arises to connect into Treaty, as in case of ^{Loans} & other financial agreements, to consider the policy to be adopted & if need be recommended to Parlt. in the light of the situation at home & abroad

Toronto 1928 p.281.

See Feb of Parlt's Empire.

Canada -

In 1928 Vol. Taylor p. 108 calls attention to the divided allegiance regionalism of the members of the American States in the Pan American Union & the regionalism of the other great family of states - the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The sharpness of the U. S. from League appeals the American States, just as ^{in an opposite sense} the activity of their European members I.H. in the League affects the position & attitude of the members of the Brit. Commonwealth.

Canada & the Council -

1927 Canada offers herself better as a member of the Brit. Commonwealth Nations than representatives of America July 1. 27.

Little action in Canada; alto' it is connected by with world & League & closely connected with Europe; generally accepted however as acknowledgment of her status.

Caribbean Trade Free State 1930 which announces in advance that it does not stand as member of any group of States.

It too is probably more concerned with acknowledgment of its status than anything else.

It disadvantages that League Council should then be made a medium of national ambitions.

Article X - Together p. 56

Canada's move at First Assembly for abolition.

What was the attitude of other Dominions at the First & second assemblies?

On the amendment submitted in the First Assembly by Canada, in substitution for proposed abolition, and the replies of La. to the circular requesting their views on the Canadian amendment (printed in Minutes of First Council of Records of Fourth Assembly 1923)

The Peru was the only country that stood out against the interpretative resolution of 1923, ~~where any Dominion among the abolitionists?~~ all the Dominions joined in the opposite etc. T. p. 58.

which replies differs somewhat from the actual Canadian amendments, but is in accord in

(a) requiring Council when recommending military measures to take of geographical conditions, situation of each State

(b) it is for the constitutional authorities of each State to decide in what degree the member is bound to assist

(c) Recommendation of Council of highest importance shall be taken into consideration by members with the desire to execute their engagements in perfect faith.