HISTORICAL NOTE	Harry Brookes Allen was born in Geelong on 13 June, 1854 and educated there at Flinders School, and later at the Church of England Grammar School, Melbourne. In 1871 he entered the University of Melbourne, studying medicine and topping his class every year. In 1876 he was appointed to the Faculty, initially as a demonstrator and then lecturer in anatomy and pathology. Allen rose quickly to the position of Dean which he held from 1886-1994, and again from 1896-1924 when he retired. Allen built up a collection of thousands of pathology specimens which form the core of the museum that now bears his name. Allen had many interests outside the University, particularly in fields relating to medicine and public health. He was appointed to preside over the Royal Commissions regarding the sanitary condition of Melbourne and the extermination of rabbits in Australasia. Allen presented reports to the Victorian government on hospital construction and management and was involved with the establishment of the Australian Institute of Tropical Medicine in Townsville in 1909 and the Walter and Eliza Hall Institute between 1912 and 1915. Allen secured the recognition of Melbourne medical degrees by the General Council of Medical Education & Registration and was the first Australian graduate to be registered in Britain. In 1914 the medical school celebrated its jubilee and Allen was knighted. Allen died on 28 March 1926. He was survived by his wife Ada (neé Mason) and three daughters.

NOTE ON COLLECTIONS	Due to its high use, the collection was re-boxed into Type 1 archive boxes, and transferred into acid-free folders in January 2009. Some of the more fragile items were placed in Mylar or other inert plastic sleeves. Items in each group were checked against the original listing, as the correspondence particularly, was out of order. Items were re-ordered to match the lists. Notes Several items were missing from correspondence: I/1(a) – (d), these are starred on the list. Series II (o) was also not located.
	Re note by Mary Allen referring to proof sheets. Proof sheets not located.
NOTE ON LISTING	Information from the original transfer of records has been retained in this listing.
	Some items seem to have been added after the original transfer and added to the original list in pencil. This supplementary material is recorded as Series III (h).
