Collection/Series Title: PAPERS OF PROFESSOR MILES LEWIS

Creator	Lewis, Professor Miles
Creator's Activity/Occupation	Architectural Historians - Academics - Architecture
Creator's Historical Note Professor Miles Lewis is an Australian architectural historian, born in Amersham, England in 1943 and immigrated to Australia in 1947. He attended Melbourne Grammar School and University of Melbourne. In 1970 Lewis received full-time appointment at the University of Melbourne where he works as Professor in the Faculty of Architecture, Building & Planning. He is one of Australia's most notable Architectural historians, and a member of the Order of Australia. Lewis has undertaken research in a number of areas including vernacular architecture, urban conservation, urban renewal, prefabrication, urban policy, building history and others. He is a Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities, a former President of Australia ICOMOS (1982-1983), of the Society of Architectural Historians Australia and New Zealand and of the Council for the Historic Environment (1980-1984). He is an immediate past President of the Town and Country Planning Association, and current Vice-President of the Comité International d'Architecture Vernaculaire (CIAV). He is a former member of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal, Victoria (now VCAT) (1988-1990) and a former Auckland University Foundation Fellow. Professor Lewis has been a consultant on World Heritage listing and to the Getty Institute. He participated in the Tianjin Urban Conservation Study, China (1991-1994).

Scope and Content of Collection/Series

The extensive papers collected from Professor Miles Lewis are mainly personal papers. The papers have been broken into several record groups guided by Lewis own organising principle documented at the time of transfer to the Archives. In this system, Lewis divided the files according to the following headings: General files [correspondence]; Personal files [correspondence]; Location files [research material regarding buildings and sites]; Biographical files on architects [research, information and correspondence about architects]; Research publication files [research material for publications, papers, etc]; Building files, Victoria [research material regarding buildings and sites]. A second part of this collection is housed in large ring binders that contain papers relating to important - sometimes controversial - planning issues, including: Housing Commission of Victoria Committee for Urban Action; Town & Country Planning Association [TCPA]; Save Our Suburbs [SOS]; Parklands Defence Council and Barry Square/Melbourne University Private controversy.

The majority of the collection has been listed at file level and a smaller proportion is listed at Unit/box level only.

A secondary resource database is available online at <http://www.mileslewis.net/> This is a useful accompaniment to the Papers of Miles Lewis, directing people to the primary sources cited, including those held at University of Melbourne Archives.
